Sushi and more

Our dining culture is changing. The new trend in food is enjoying a variety of delicacies from around the world rather than eating according to a fixed menu. Sushi, antipasti, soups, salads, dips or tea: served in a light and uncomplicated manner, this new snack culture reflects a new and virtually borderless cosmopolitan society. Snacks are the trend.

The new Schönwald collection "Unlimited" provides a refined setting for the latest in food trends. With a few multi-functional elements you can conjure up an entire culinary world on your dining table.

Chinaware for all occasions

Titbits, snacks or finger food at a business lunch, for a fiesta or a tête-à-tête: everything is possible. That calls for original and simple chinaware, something that will fit into every setting and can be used for many different occasions.

With square, round and curved shapes, which can be used individually or combined with perfect ease according to the occasion, you can create new and exciting food scenarios for your guests.

International delicacies

Today it is important to have the right combination of exquisite cuisine and proper table decoration in order to please the guests and surprise them time and again with new and creative ideas. When international delicacies are attractively served on puristic design, you trigger emotions that will please your guests and meet the zeitgeist.

Few elements – big effect: that is characteristic of Schönwald's collection "Unlimited".
